DEDICATION

He's the man for all seasons. Coach Clifford Dobbs is always here when you need him the most. He has a question for every answer and a problem for every solution.

Coach Dobbs has led our baseball and football teams to many proud and deserving victories. His determination to make things right is shown both on and off the playing field.

The members of the Senior Class are grateful for "Dobbie's" helping hand and the advice he has given us through this last year of our high school days.

Not only has the class of '69 appreciated him as a coach and teacher but most of all for being a bus driver, cupid, statistician, scorekeeper, reporter, class advisor, doctor, lifeguard, camera fixer, chaperone, banker, and last but not least, a true-blue friend to the MAD, MAD, MAD, Seniors.

GET READY FOR A MAD MAD YEAR!

PERRY E. WHITSON - Superintendent

To the Student Body -

As you "thumb" through this yearbook you will be reminded of a very successful school year. Each of you contributed toward this success. Therefore, STUDENTS ...

"This is Your Year"

To each of you, may this volume of pictorial presentation add reminiscence to your future.

Sincerely,
Perry E. Whitson
Superintendent

MRS. MARIE WHITE

ROBERT L. BOWEN - Principal

ESTHER FLOYD

Dear Students:

In this book you will find a sampling of the educational experiences on DeLand-Weldon High School in 1968-69. I use the word "sampling" because only a small portion of your education can be shown by pictures and words. Many, many things happen in the classroom and outside of school that are educational. By putting all of your experiences together, each of you receive an education.

What is the value of an education? Playwright Thornton Wilder says: "Education is the bridge man crosses from the self-endorsed, self-favoring life, into the consciousness of the entire community of mankind." Each student builds his own bridge. What each student does with his education depends on his "consciousness of the community of mankind." I sincerely hope that in the years ahead you, as graduates, will cross the bridge to improve the "Community of mankind."

Please accept my best regards to the number one student body in Illinois.

Sincerely,
Robert L. Bowen
Principal

THE EAGLES

Eagles in Regional action.

Students battle faculty.

Whether they were on the field, court, track, or diamond; up in the stands; or along the side leading cheers, the Eagles truly were winners. Athletically this school year was the finest of all in the past.

School spirit was probably the best it has ever been. We only hope that the spirit and team-work continue.

This year the Eagles are vying for their third straight conference title, and are determined to be the first champions of the new summer baseball program. The Eagles are fielding an experienced team this year with seven seniors in their starting lineup. They are a strong hitting ball club, and make few mistakes in the field. Their overall balance should make them sure bets for the championship.

G. A. A.

The primary purpose and goal of the G. A. A. is to promote initiative in sports activities in and out of doors, to assume a willingness for responsibility, live so that each may be healthy and strong, and to make good sportsmanship a factor in each individual's conduct.

New activities the G. A. A. have sponsored this year have been a G. A. A. Dad's Night and a Mother's Tea. The club held a bake sale which boosted the club's treasury.

Classes

It's not hard to see how the Ag. and Industrial Arts boys kept themselves busy during the school year. The boys of these two courses work on motors, take cars and tractors apart, paint, clean shop, work and draw designs. You name it, they do it. These two courses offer a lot for young boys to learn.

HOME ECONOMICS

Mrs. Leischner taught Home Economics and was assisted by Miss Elder, student teacher. This course consisted of Home Ec. I and II in which the girls were taught the fundamentals of Homemaking. Home Improvement was also available to girls interested in interior decorating.

SCIENCE

Mr. Edman taught the general science, chemistry, and physics classes and Mrs. Seal taught biology this year. Their teaching enabled the students to cope with the rapid advancement of science.

This page is sponsored by DR. ALLMAN and GUCKER'S DRUG STORE of Monticello.

ENGLISH AND FRENCH

English and French made up the language curriculum at D-W. Miss Gilbert taught one class of English III, English II, and College Prep. Mrs. Woods taught the other class of English III. Mrs. Miller handled the French department along with Freshman English.

ART

Mrs. Seal taught two classes of Art this year. Late in the year the classes moved into the new school building. Some projects of the year were wood carving, copper enameling, painting, wood block prints, paper mache, clay modeling, perspective drawings, wax carving, water colors and ink documents. Art II also completed a mural of yarn and made individual chess sets.

SOCIAL SCIENCES

Through the study of history, we can understand how, when, and why, the events of the world have taken place. And through this knowledge, our past helps us to more accurately predict our future and the changes Man will make on his society. Pictured on this page are examples of the study, involvement, and understanding of the events that shape our society.

This year at DeLand-Weldon there were nine courses offered in business education. These courses were Office Practice, Business English, BMA, Recording Keeping, Bookkeeping, Typing I and II, and Shorthand I and II.

BUSINESS EDUCATION

This year was the first year that Typing II was offered at our high school, with an enrollment of 14 students. With such a good interest in this course, it is being offered again next year.

M A T H

Although Mr. Bader's math students weren't allowed to have their usual parties in class this year, things were still lively. The seniors learned the evils of gambling while studying probability in Advanced Math, and the seniors in M. B. A. played the "Game of Life." The juniors learned how to chart the course of an ocean liner "9 times out of 10" in trigonometry class, while the sophomores "bent the rules" a bit and gave Mr. Schwarzentraub an engagement party in geometry class. The freshmen were typical freshmen - they struggled with Algebra I.

Physical education not only uses the body for learning skills but combines the physical aspects with the mental. All movements performed with coordination need the intermingling of mind and body. This is what all physical educators try to achieve. At DW it's a mad, mad scene, baby!

We, the MAD Senior Class of 1969, being of sound body and mind on this 23rd day of May, nineteen hundred sixty-nine do declare these writings to be our last will and testaments, and revoke all former wills and Codicils.

The righteous purpose of these last Wills is to form a more perfect student body, guarantee personal improvement, and provide many MAD, MAD years like this of '69.

- I, Kathy Allan, will my pep and enthusiasm as a cheerleader to the J. V. cheerleaders in hopes that they have as much fun as I did.
- I, Brad Anderson, will my coordination and basketball ability to Steve Gantz. I can't think of anyone who needs it more.
- I, Suzan Baker, will my ability to get along with the music teachers to Gretchen Gay.
- I, Valerie Barr, will my blonde hair to Debbie Clifton so she won't have to use Summer Blonde anymore.
- I, Bruce Beck, will my knee-high mocassins to Mrs. Huehner.
- I, David Becker, will my long hair to Mr. Dobbs to cover his bald, bald head.
- I, Shirlie Bell, will my short, neat hair to Peggy Anderson.
- I, Karla Borton, will my Betty Crocker award to Brita Bergland.
- I, Kevin Brock, will half of my hair to Mr. Robert L. Bowen.
- I, Gerry Brock, will my black Tenni-runners to Mr. R. L. Bowen, in hopes that it will put spring in his step.
- I, Lanette Burton, will my leftover boyfriends to Mary Madden.
- I, Dorothy Campbell, will my ability to lose weight and keep it off to my brother Les.
- I, Billy Carter, will my baby blue track shoes to Bruce Grant and Ol'Hurcurmer to Timmy Wachob and Larry Cothorn.
- I, Marsha Conover, will my height to Brita Bergland.
- I, Ed Dalton, will my height to the short people in DWHS.
- I, Nancy Duggins, will my ability to "put-up" with Mr. Heavilin to Deb Clifton.
- I, Glenda Eastham, will my "broadway" Joe Namath locker pin-ups to Mr. Dobbs and his football team, hoping they will provide inspiration for many "super" seasons.
- I, Mike Ferguson, will my super stock wheel standing green monster, VW, to anyone who will have it.
